

Lesson 4

The AOKs and your Personal World View.

Objective

To develop an understanding of how the AOK are linked to our personal worldviews and how that the AOKs are often part of shared knowledge but the way they impact our world view can be very personal.

A small blue fish is swimming in an aquarium. The background is a light blue wall with several tall, thin green plants. The bottom of the tank is covered in orange-brown sand. The fish is positioned in the lower right quadrant of the frame, facing left. The text "El pececillo también creció para convertirse en un pez adulto" is overlaid on the bottom left of the image.

El pececillo también creció para convertirse en un pez adulto

Fish is Fish by Leo Leonni

- a. What is the point of the story?
- b. How can what we know, or what we don't know about different AOK's impact the way we see the world?

AOK Main Reflection

Using the TOK Guide, this site and the Internet complete the reflection on the next slide.

Reflection

1. Place the AOKs in rank order (from most to least) in terms of the influence they have on your personal world view.
2. For each AOK write down 2 or 3 ways that they contribute to your worldview.
3. For each AOK write down what you think is the most significant weakness in terms of contributing to your world view.